

TermCoord wins out

Last update: 02/07/2013

DG TRAD's Terminology Coordination (TermCoord) website has been voted one of the 25 Best Language Professional Blogs of 2013 by bab.la.

Based on a total of 100 selected websites, language enthusiasts on bab.la voted TermCoord one of the best professional language blogs of the year, bringing the EP site to no.7 on a list of 25.

Bab.la is a language project launched by Andreas Schroeter and Patrick Uecker: it's a portal which allows language lovers the world over to meet and exchange ideas and learn languages from each other.

So Newshound extends its congratulations to our TermCoord colleagues for winning out.

Don't forget to check out the TermCoord website: the current front page introduces our new colleagues from the Croatia Language Unit in Luxembourg.

You can also follow TermCoord on Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn.

A future award for one of these other TermCoord websites in the future perhaps?
